What can you see here?

The Essex County Environmental Center is a facility of the Essex County Parks System and is located in West Essex Park. The immediate grounds include approximately 1 mile of trails, a raised boardwalk, and a wooded wetland habitat with access to the Upper Passaic River.

Since our opening in May 2005, we have been documenting the local flora and fauna found on our site. We have found raccoons, painted turtles, clams, crayfish, river otter, deer, turkey, coyote, salamanders, green and wood frogs, garter snakes, screech owls, barred owls, mushrooms, milkweed, spicebush, asters, oaks, maples, cedars, pines, beech, birch and more!

- ✓ All trips leave from the Environmental Center

Enjoy a leisurely slow-paced paddle on the Passaic River. Learn about the history of the river and Native American lore while quietly enjoying the beauty of our West Essex Park Water Trail. If conditions permit, we may conduct water quality samples and pull over for lunch!

About the River

Canoeing offers residents a great opportunity to sneak up and view wildlife right in Essex County. For many it's shocking to see painted turtles and snapping turtles basking, great blue herons skipping down the river, deer feeding on the edges, red foxes gazing in surprise and a variety of birds circling overhead.

What to Bring

- ✓ Old sneakers or secure sandals you don't mind getting muddy.
- ✓ Shorts, shirt, sweater, hat, windbreaker, or quick-drying nylon clothing. NO COTTON!
- ✓ A change of dry clothing and footwear.
- ✓ Disposable or waterproof camera.
- ✓ Lunch or snack and water.

Passaic River Facts

- ✓ Passaic or "pahsayèk" is a Native Lenape American word meaning "valley".
- ✓ Native Lenape and Iroquois Americans lived along the river before European settlement.
- ✓ The first colonial settlement along the Passaic was in 1666 at present day Newark.
- ✓ The Passaic River is about 80 miles long and flows through forty-five municipalities and seven New Jersey counties.
- ✓ Everyone lives in a watershed or land that drains into a body of water. The Passaic River is one of 20 state-wide watershed management areas. Refrain from littering or polluting as it all ends up in the water, threatening the health, safety and ecological integrity of our water sources.
